199 Years and Counting: Now Spiceland in those days was not to be considered as a village, but at the center of a community extending for miles in every direction. The large proportion of the population were members of the Society of Friends who had emigrated from North Carolina and had settled there with their families. It was an exceptionally quiet, sober, steadfast, home community, where strife and crime were unknown and severely reprobated. – T. B. Deem

Life Lifter to Share: "And I am certain that God, who began the good work within you, will continue his work until it is finally finished on the day Christ Jesus returns." Philippians 1:6
